Project Update

• Bosch has been announced as the latest Platinum Member
• TUV SUD is announcing their world-wide availability of third-party certification tomorrow.
• Japan Work Group continues to grow, six has sub-groups working on materials related to education, business workflows, bills of materials, tooling and more.
• OpenChain will be featured at AGL this week in Tokyo.
• OpenChain will host a workshop at the Leadership Summit on March 13th
• OpenChain will co-host an event in Shenzhen on March 22nd.
ZVEI consortium on OpenChain

• Over to our guest speaker, Steffen Herz

• What is ZVEI consortium?

• What is ZVEI consortium doing with OpenChain?
Onboarding Work Team

• Today we are focusing on the Path to Conformance, a document that will become a page on the website.

• This document is nearly ready and will be featured front and center on the website:

Onboarding Work Team

• For the Path to Conformance, I think we are ready to go forward with the content I have. We are light in a few areas, but once the page is up it will be easier to solicit new content.

• We are making a final call to review content for Level 1... content to help understand and assess open source risks. Even links to third party content would be helpful.

• Note that I also added a step 5, basically asking once someone has conformed to OpenChain, then what? We should have some resources to help our community members bring their supply chain partners on board as well.
Specification Work Team

• The latest draft of the next version of OpenChain Specification can be found here:
  https://wiki.linuxfoundation.org/_media/openchain/openchainspec-2.0.draft.pdf

• A marked up version can be found here:

• Recent updates can be found in yellow and blue highlights.
Specification Work Team

Remaining Steps:

• Continue to discuss recently received feedback and work through remaining outstanding issues listed on the spec’s github account: https://github.com/OpenChain-Project/Specification/issues

• The wider public comments stage has commenced and will concluded on March 22nd

• The draft freeze period will begin on March 23rd
